Information Updates

You must contact FintechCashier via our Contact Us page if any of your personal or professional information, such as your name, address, or phone number, needs to be updated.

FintechCashier strongly suggests that all information be kept current and accurate to prevent any inconvenience for anyone. In the unlikely scenario that losses result from failing to update your information, FintechCashier will be exempted of all liability.

Data Storage

The information We obtain from You is stored on Our system servers. We take reasonable steps to prevent unauthorized access, use, or disclosure of Your personal information. Although FintechCashier Uses industry-standard security measures, it cannot guarantee that no one will be able to circumvent or subvert them and get unauthorized access to Your personal information. To protect Your personal information, You should never share Your login or password with a third party.

DISCLOSURE OF YOUR INFORMATION

FintechCashier may grant third-party applications access to your information in cases where your personal information needs to be verified or for other validation purposes. We guarantee that third-party application verification processes will help to keep your account safe from fraud, money laundering, and illegal activities related to our services. We may disclose personal information to third parties such as:

- Business partners, acquirers, and suppliers for the fulfilment of any contract We engage into with them or You.
- Search engine and analytics companies that assist Us in improving and optimizing Our Website.

- Credit reporting organizations for the purpose of analyzing Your credit score when it is a prerequisite of Us entering into a contract with You.

We may disclose Your personal data to third parties:

- If We sell or acquire any business or assets, Your personal information might be revealed to the prospective seller or buyer of those businesses or assets.
- If FintechCashier or essentially all its assets are acquired by a third party, personal information about its customers will be among the transferred assets.
- If We are under a legal obligation
 - to disclose or reveal Your personal data to comply with any legal requirement
 - to enforce or apply Our terms of service and other agreements
 - to protect FintechCashier, Our customers, or others' rights, property, and safety.

Third Party Websites

You may come across advertisements or other information on Our Website that directs You to the websites and services of Our partners, suppliers, advertisers, sponsors, licensors, and other third parties. We have no control over the material or links that appear on these sites, and We are not responsible for their activities.

Browsing and interaction on any other website, including those that connect to

Our site, is governed by the terms and conditions of that website. We cannot guarantee that any information You send to other websites will be protected or kept private.

Customer Rights

We respect Your right to control how Your personal information is used as a customer. If You have any questions about Your rights, please contact Us at the address shown at the bottom of this Privacy statement.

These rights include the following:

- Request to erase the Personal Information: You have the right to have personal information removed if it is required to comply with applicable laws and regulations, for legal proceedings, compliance purposes, or for any financial crime prevention objectives.
- Request for personal information transfer: You reserve the right to request that Your information be transmitted to a third party where technically and legally possible.
- Request for rectification: You have the right to request that any personal information kept by Us be corrected if it is incomplete, incorrect, or outdated. This stage will necessitate the verification of the newly submitted personal data.
- Right to access Your personal information: You have the right to receive a copy of Your personal information that We hold, including certain information about how We are processing Your personal information to the extent permissible by PCI-DSS and the financial data regulations.

- Right to object to direct marketing: You have the right to ask that Your personal data not be used for direct marketing. Visit Login details in your business dashboard to unsubscribe from marketing and promotional emails.

Data Security

We place a high value on the security of Your information and the privacy of Your personal information. We have set rigorous data security standards since we have been entrusted with some of your most precious data. We have put in place necessary security measures to protect Your personal data from being mistakenly lost, used, or accessed in an unauthorized manner, altered, or disclosed. Furthermore, We restrict access to Your personal information to employees and third-party service providers who have a legitimate business need to know. They will only process Your personal information in accordance with Our instructions and are bound by a duty of confidentiality.

Changes To Our Privacy Policy
